

COKER LIBNOTES

A monthly newsletter brought to you by the Coker Library-Information Technology Center

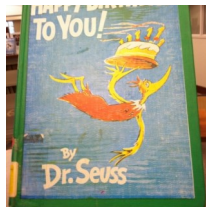

VOL. 1, ISSUE 1

4.1.2015

Top stories in this newsletter

Recent and Upcoming Events

Library Happenings

Did You Know?

New Books & Resources

Recent and Upcoming Events

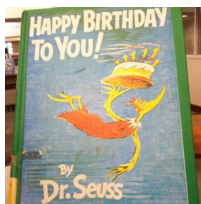

We hope you were able to stop by the library for some of the wonderful Black History Month events that took place in February. Professor Jennifer Heusel and her students designed posters celebrating Black History month and displayed them in the atrium. Theatrical Expressions presented a Living History Museum with Coker's talented actors portraying many famous African Americans throughout history, including Frederick Douglass, Sojourner Truth, and many others!

The Library, along with the Undergraduate Research Program, also recently sponsored the Library Prize for Undergraduate Research. The Library Prize was established to encourage the use of library research techniques and to honor the best research project produced each year by Coker College undergraduate students. The winner will be announced at the Honors Convocation on Tuesday, April 7.

Be on the lookout for fun activities and events as we celebrate National Library Week on April 12-18.

Library Happenings

We know you already love and use the library for studying and doing research, but did you know that the library is a hub for all sorts of other activities? Just recently, the Grad Fair was held here, student athletes volunteered on the National Day of Service, and we had a pizza and games night during finals week at the end of last semester.

The library also has displays that change regularly. In March we celebrated Dr. Seuss' birthday (March 2) with a selection of his books and information about him, as well as Women's History Month, with related books and a display about women in history. We also often have posters created by students from classes, such as Spanish.

Please let us know if you have ideas for displays or would like to show class projects. Featured displays in April: Math, Assassination of Abraham Lincoln, National Library Week, Interfaith Youth Corp.

Did You Know?

Did you know that the library has a print and online College & Career Planning collection? Located just past the reference desk, the print collection includes titles on Tests & Study Guides; College Success; Grad School; Internships; Scholarships/Grants; Study Abroad; Writing & Research; Faculty Resources; Careers; and Job Hunting.

For related databases, go to the library website then click on the "Research Help" link, then "Databases," then "Learning & Career Resources." You will find both Ferguson's Career Guidance Center and Learning Express Library. Career articles and ebooks are also available.

You can also use the College & Career Planning LibGuide to help you find all the resources. Please ask a library staff member if you need further assistance!

New Books & Resources

The library recently started listing new print books that have been added to the collection on its GoodReads website. There you can find interactive lists of new books that were added by month and also specific collections. GoodReads provides a synopsis and often ratings. If you have your own GoodReads account, you can link to the library's account to get updates as to when new books were added.

You can also come to the library and browse our new books! They are located just past the Circulation Desk on the right.

Charles W. & Joan S. Coker Library-Information Technology Center
300 East College Ave., Hartsville, SC 29550
843-383-8125

Library Website

